

Mothering in the Third Wave

edited by Amber E. Kinser

"Mothering in the Third Wave is a welcome addition to scholarship on both third-wave feminism and feminist mothering. The volume continues in the tradition of earlier third-wave anthologies in its inclusive and diverse vision of feminisms and feminists, while forging new ground in its focus on third-wave mothers and third-wave practices of mothering. In exploring how the institution of motherhood is shaped by today's political and social realities, Mothering in the Third Wave examines contemporary experiences of feminist mothering while connecting to earlier writing on the subject since the 1970s. Recommended for readers of any generation interested in the complexities of feminist mothering in the twenty-first century."

- Astrid Henry, author of Not My Mother's Sister: Generational Conflict and Third-Wave Feminism

"This edited collection of essays addresses a broad spectrum of experiences and issues related to contemporary maternity, productively complicating our understanding of this important topic. It should be of interest to students and scholars in a wide range of fields, including women's studies, communication studies, and sociology. I look forward to using it in my own classes."

- Sara Hayden, Ph.D., Professor of Communication Studies, University of Montana
